

IET Apprentice & Technician awards recognise and reward exceptional individuals.
The following 3 awards are available.

IET Apprentice of the Year

Recognise a current or recent apprentice who stands out from their peers and has made noteworthy achievements during their engineering apprenticeship. An individual who is a role model to others and is passionate about promoting engineering e.g. to schools or through volunteer work.

Criteria

- The apprentice should be in at least the second year of an IET Approved Apprenticeship scheme.
- They may have recently completed their apprenticeship.
- Does not have to be an IET member / professionally registered.

Show how the apprentice has:

- Made substantial contributions towards their employer or operational area, e.g. towards the development of a new product, service or process that demonstrates outstanding understanding of engineering principles.
- Progressed towards the apprenticeship qualifications.
- Shown evidence of engineering ambassadorial work.

Prize

Trophy, certificate, £1,000 and two years' free IET membership including technician professional application fee, when winner is ready to apply.

Nominate a great apprentice today!

IET Technician of the Year

Recognise a technician who's made an exceptional contribution.

Criteria

- The technician can be in any sector (e.g. engineering, technology, academic) in any country.
- Does not have to be an IET member / professionally registered.

Show how the technician has:

- Demonstrated outstanding engineering or technical understanding and ability which has made an exceptional contribution to the organisation.
- Made an exceptional commitment to engineering/technology through their technical and professional development.
- Other factors can enhance the nomination, e.g. engineering ambassadorial activities such as outreach events.

Prize

Trophy, certificate, £1,000 and two years' free IET membership.

Nominate a great engineering technician today!

IET Armed Forces Technician of the Year

Recognise an engineering technician in any of the UK's Armed Forces. An individual who has demonstrated an exceptional commitment to the operational area.

Criteria

- The technician will be currently serving in the United Kingdom Armed Forces (Royal Navy, Army or Royal Air Force).
- Does not have to be an IET member / professionally registered.

Show how the technician has:

- Demonstrated outstanding engineering or technical understanding and ability which has made an exceptional contribution to the area of operation.
- Made an exceptional commitment to engineering/technology through their technical and professional development.
- Other factors can enhance the nomination, e.g. engineering ambassadorial activities such as outreach events.

Prize

Trophy, certificate, £1,000 and two years' free IET membership.

Nominate a great UK Armed Forces engineering technician today!

If you have any questions, please contact us at awards@theiet.org